Oxygen Electronics LLC appoints Sarsen Technology Limited as UK and Ireland Representative.

Marlborough, Wiltshire – 6th March 2000 – Oxygen Electronics LLC, a leading provider of Internet Commerce, Supply Chain Management and Data Management Tools announces that Sarsen Technology Limited has been appointed as their United Kingdom and Ireland Representative. Sarsen Technology are charged with developing the fast growing telecommunications, contract equipment manufacture and defence electronics customer base. Early adopters include Ericsson, Motorola and the Thomson Group.

Mark Pasdon, co-founder of Oxygen Electronics in August 1995, states that “The Sarsen Technology team gives Oxygen Electronics the market knowledge and influence to continue our dramatic sales growth. Oxygen is currently growing at a rate of more than 300% year on year”.

“Key players in the UK and Ireland electronics industry have moved on from simply knowing that to succeed in today’s economy they need e-commerce and supply chain management systems. Now they are demanding rapid implementation of these systems to allow them to focus on their customers,” says Nigel Norman, Sarsen Technology’s Managing Director. “Oxygen Electronics web-based systems and tools backed by their exceptional customer-service levels quickly gives our clients the competitive edge they need.”

The internet-based service offering from Oxygen Electronics can be tailored to an customer’s individual requirements. The elements include supply chain management, global sourcing enterprise (GSE), data management, spot market procurement, obsolescence management and excess inventory liquidation. The web site addresses are www.o2xygen.com and www.sarsen.net.
